The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE.

The Cause Must be Removed, Same Way With Dandruff.

Kill the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Newbro's Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destoying the dandruff germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

THE BLACK HAND.

Although there are no indications of any attempt to lynch the Italian "Black Hand" murderers captured and now confined in the New Orleans and Gretna jails, Gov. Blanchard telegraph to the sheriffs of Orleans and Jefferson parishes and to the chief of police of New Orleans tendering them the assistance of the militia, if necessary to preserve order. He also telegraphed to Gen Gardner, commanding the National Guard, to hold the militia in readiness. At the request of the governor, Judge Edrington, of the district in which St. Rose is situated, where the Lamana boy was murdered, will call a special session of of the district court to assure an immediate trial of the prisoners. A conference to that end was held in Gretna yesterday. Thirteen Italians implicated in the crime are confirned in the New Orleans parish prison, four in the Gretna jail, and two in St. Bernard jail. Four of the principals in the kidnapping and murder have not yet been arrested. All the prisoners will be put on trial for murder. It has been developed that the kidnapping was conceived by Francisco Luchesi, who hoped in this way to get money enough to enable him to marry Nicolina Gebbia.

Members of the Black Hand Society who recently attempted to murder Jos. A. Morroney and his family, by placing dynamite in the kitchen stove of his home at Mount Vernon, N. Y., have finally set the day for his murder unless he gives them $1,000. Morroney received his last notice through the mail yesterday morning. The letter, which was postmarked New York, had a skull and crossbones at the head, and read: "Unless you leave $1,000 where we told you to, you will be killed and buried in the New Rochelle Cemetery by July 5." The message was signed "The Black Hand." Below was a picture of a coffin with a plate which bore the name, Jos. A. Morroney. Morroney is the proprietor of the Wigwam Hotel, Mount Vernon. He is wealthy, and is the democratic Italian leader in that place. When he received the threat in yesterday morning's mail he took the letter to Chief of Police Foley. Morroney will be guarded by the police night and day. Meanwhile, the police will try to run down the writer of the letter.

Attempt to Kill Broker.

A bitter feud, the exact cause of which is shrouded in mystery, culminated in Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday in a desperate attempt on the part of Major T. Lemuel Harper, one of the most prominent steel men in that city, to kill Levi DeWolf, a broker, probably the wealthiest and best known Hebrew in Pittsburg.

The shooting took place in DeWolf's office, in the Columbia Bank building. Major Harper was armed with two revolvers when he entered DeWolf's office a few minutes after 3 o'clock and began firing at once. DeWolf and Adolphus E. Adams, another broker, grappled with Harper, and after a desperate struggle he was disarmed. The police were summoned and Harper was locked up, an application for his release on bail having been refused.

The prisoner is resident secretary of the American Republican Club. He was for many years superintendent of the J. Painter & Sons Steel Mills and later acted as district manager for the American Steel Hoop Company.

DeWolf is a brother of Mrs. J. M. Gusky, and is also a leading member of the American Club. Just how the trouble between the two men started cannot be learned. Both refuse to talk.

The first outbreak between the men occurred in the Americus Club a week ago. At that time Major Harper, in the heat of an argument, called DeWolf a vile name. Blows were struck.

It is reported that back of the affair is a scandal which is likely to cause an upheaval in Pittsburg society at any moment. The men have been bitter enemies for some time.

Tights for Lady Godiva.

Public opinion in Coventry is divided upon the question of the costume to be worn by La Milo in the forthcoming pageant in which she is to impersonate Lady Godiva.

The chairman of the historical committee said: "I think the bother which is being made is about the best advertisement the show could have. On the question of dress there was much discussion in committee, but we rejected the proposal that Lady Godiva should dress as a countess, and she will wear fleshings, a light cloak and fallen hair."

The mayor has made known the fact that he is opposed to the costume decided upon, and some trade guilds have refused to subscribe, but notwithstanding the opposition the committee means to carry out the procession.

"When this year's pageant was first talked about," said La Milo, "it was suggested to me that I should take the part of Lady Godiva. I made no suggestion at all regarding costume, leaving it entirely in the hands of the committee. It held a number of meetings, and I hear that there were opposing factions—one being in favor of my appearing in fleshings, partially draped.

"Eventually the party in favor of fleshings won the day, and I was formally notified of the fact. Now I hear that a lot of the puritans in the town are holding up their hands in horror. They say that the costume chosen would be positively indecent, but the committee, I am told, intends to stick to its guns."

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1907.

WHAT HAS always been a serious hindrance to the growth of Alexandria is the little attention paid by the authorities to the suburbs. The city in the main is compactly built, but within the present corporate limits there are sites for innumerable buildings that are needed for present demands. The policy of the city seems to be to spend all the money available for improvements within a circumscribed area, neglecting the really prettier sections, or the suburbs, the people of which pay their full quota of taxes to defray the running expenses of the city and also to pay the improvements constantly being made in the central sections. There is heard now and then talk of extending the city limits, but a much better plan would be to properly care for the territory now embraced therein. A few more lights; the laying of a few more macadam streets; guttering and curbing here and there; the laying of an occasional crossing and the filling in of numerous holes in the roadway, &c., would enhance the value of lots in the suburbs and induce people to build thereon. One has but to walk in the suburbs of either of the four wards of the city to see the number of available unimproved lots and be convinced of the truth of what is said above. In many other cities the suburbs are the residential sections and this could be made so in Alexandria if the city fathers would but open their eyes and see things as they are. Let the city do its part and the people will do the rest.

THERE IS restlessness in continental Europe which portends evil sooner or later. The recent scenes in southern France are ominous of an approaching storm in that country, and the proclaimers of lawlessness are watching an opportunity to still further inflame the minds of the people against the government. The chronic disorders in Russia are becoming more bitter daily, and the discontented element makes no hesitation in condemning the Czar by name. Riots, cavalry charges, deadly volleys, censorship of correspondence and suppression of the press are unwelcome features of the news from Portugal, a land which has been supposed to be one of those happy countries whose pages in the history books are blank. Standing apart from the intrigues and rivalries of the great powers, closely associated with the most liberal power in Europe, rich in resources and reigned over by an amiable king, that famous nation should be always tranquil and content. Yet today it is in the midst of a crisis which threatens to become revolutionary.

ACCORDING to dispatches from Tokio the Japanese are becoming alarmed at the disturbed commercial relations between that country and the United States, incident to the important occurences in California, and the merchants of the Mikado's kingdom, have resolved to use energetic means toward restoring normal conditions. People in positions to know have always maintained that there is no disposition on the part of the representative people of Japan to bring about trouble with the United States. There are many reasons why such a course should be avoided. It is generally supposed that the jingo element in Japan never vioced the opinions of those having the material welfare of the country at heart.

INSTEAD of the President, John Temple Graves himself denies the statement attributed to him that he (the president) said he would accept a third term nomination if he was assured of the electoral vote of a single southern State. The report was discredited from the start.

THE French government has promised to take steps to stop the adulteration of wines and the United States has already passed laws to this effect, but adulterated liquors are still prevalent in both countries.

From Washington.

[Correspondende of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, June 25.

Rear Admiral Berry reports from Hampton Roads, the finding of the last body of the ill-fated eleven midshipmen and sailors who were drowned in the accident to the launch of the battleship Minnesota two weeks ago. The body recovered had been identified as that of ordinary Seaman Frank R. Plumle one of the crew of the launch.

A reduction of $173,000 in the pay of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for transporting the mails between Philadelphia and Pittsburg has been made by the government. This reduction will be effective for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1. There will be further reductions in the railway mail pay of the Pennsylvania, and when all the provisions of the appropriation bill for the next year become effective this company will have its earnings curtailed by about $500,000.

"The scheme is one to discredit the strike that we have against the Erie "declared President James O'Connell, of the International Associaton of Machinists today when shown the charge of General Manager Stuart, that the Erie had been paying the machinists $10,000 yearly to avert a strike."

She was walking within a few feet of a wire fence when the bolt passed along the wire and struck her. The plant of the American Box Company, in the lower part of Lynchburg, was destroyed yesterday morning by fire, which seems to have been of an incendiary origin. The loss is estimated at $9,000, with $6,500 insurance. The company purchased the plant last Saturday from R. E. Mitchel, whose box factory on Walnut street was burned out a month ago. The mammoth tank of the Standard Oil Company was saved by the work of the entire fire department.

The bear is supposed to have come down from the mountains or to have escaped from a passing menagerie.

The troubles which have existed for some time past in the Harrison Street Baptist Church, colored in Petersburg, of which Rev. Her face was slightly burned, but the body otherwise showed no effect of the bolt. A little girl a few feet behind her escaped injury.

The Jamestown Exposition management yesterday began the publication of the names of all delinquent subscribers to its common and preferred stock, the list being advertised for sale on July 22. The list comprises about 1,000 names, most of whom are subscribers to only one or two shares, on which they have paid all assessments to date. The large number of subscriptions to this stock indicates the widespread interest in the exposition movement at the time it was launched. The company has delayed this means of enforcing collection in the hope that it would not be necessary to resort to it.

Mysterious Suicide.

On the lawn in front of the home of Miss Lola Neikirk, daughter of George Neikirk, near Monrovia, Md., with whom he had spent Sunday afternoon and evening, Roger Montgomery, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Montgomery, of near Ijamsville, committed suicide about 3 o'clock yesterday morning by shooting himself through the heart. The cause of his suicide is a mystery.

Young Montgomery called upon Miss Neikirk Sunday afternoon, and she drove with him to the home of her brother, George Neikirk. They returned about 9 o'clock, and he remained with her until about midnight. Before leaving he made an engagement to go with her to Braddock Heights on July 4, and when he bade her good-by, she says, he appeared to be in the best of spirits.

Montgomery was supposed to have gone home, but about 3 o'clock yesterday morning members of the Neikirk family were aroused by a pistol shot in front of the house. Roy and Walter Neikirk, brothers of Miss Neikirk, ran out to make an investigation and found Montgomery lying in the yard near the gate. He was unconscious and died in a few moments.

THE LOVING TRIAL.

Judge William G. Loving, of Nelson county, was placed on trial before Judge Barksdale, at Halifax county yesterday for the murder of Theodore Estes, at Oak Ridge, last April 22. No difficulty was experienced in the selection of a jury during the morning session.

The following compose the jury: W. M. Royster, W. B. Powell, W. T. Arendall, C. D. S. Farmer, G. C. Jackson, J. L. Hardy, B. S. McCraw, J. M. Johnson, J. H. Sneed, C. H. Manning, George T. Carter, and W. J. Lacy.

Clerk Craddock then read the indictment, Judge Loving standing erect. The court announced that the court would convene at 10 o'clock, have recess from 12 to 2 for dinner, and continue until 5:30 in the afternoon. At noon, at the suggestion of counsel, a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

In the afternoon the State completed the presentation of its evidence in two hours, and the accused was placed on the stand as the first witness for the defense.

The State introduced a dozen of the sixty-four witnesses who had been summoned in making its direct examination, and in this number no new facts were adduced. The two colored men who were at the car at the time of the shooting told of seeing Judge Loving approach, that Estes was informed of the fact and also that Loving had a shotgun.

Estes, said the witnesses, made no attempt to conceal himself and did not try to get out of the car, paying absolutely no attention to the action of Judge Loving. They told how Judge Loving had entered the car, made a remark to Estes about taking the ladies out driving and drugging them, and then firing a load of buckshot into the boy as he stood with his hands uplifted.

Estes had made a protestation to the judge, but had not been heeded, the irate father raising the gun a second time and firing the remaining charge into the young man's neck, almost severing his head. Estes fell to the floor and died in a few moments.

Russell C. Brown, a little white boy, told of hearing the reports of the gun, of seeing Judge Loving leave the car, and of his breaking down the gun and throwing the shells on the ground. These the boy picked up and gave to the officers when they asked for them.

The officer who arrested Judge Loving told of taking possession of the gun and of the finding of four loaded shells in his overcoat pocket. All these were produced in court, along with the gun and the clothing Estes wore at the time of the shooting. These gory relics caused a shudder when they were displayed, the undergarments being literally perforated by the buckshot which the cartridges contained. When the last of the dozen witnesses had been heard Attorney Wood Bouldin arose and made the brief statement; "The prosecution rests its case."

The announcement came as a surprise to the spectators, and to the defense, though the defense was not wholly unprepared to hear the announcement. That other witnesses will be called in rebuttal is known, and the belief exists at this time that strong efforts are to be made to discredit some of the statements which are to be made by the defense.

It may be that an attack on Miss Loving's evidence will be made, but this cannot be stated with certainty. The prosecution is in the position of having proved the killing, and will be able to force the defense to play its hand before the State is called to put in rebuttal.

"We will call Judge William G. Loving as the first witness for the defense," announced John L. Lee, who is leading in the case, though Aubrey E. Strode is senior counsel. Judge Loving arose with calmness and deliberation, walked over to the clerk's desk, and listened to the oath. He imprinted a kiss on the Bible, turned, and walked coolly to the witness stand. His counsel asked him concerning his age, residence, occupation, family relations, and settled back to listen to his narration of the facts in connection with the shooting.

Judge Loving, after saying that he had practiced law, been in the general assembly, and was now manager of the estate of Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, took up the matter of being told of the alleged conduct of young Estes toward his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Loving, while out driving Sunday afternoon, April 21. He said that this information had come to him through Harry Sneed, his brother-in-law, who had come into possession of them while at Lovington.

Sneed has declared that he believed it to be his duty to tell the girl's father of what he had been told, and he did so after a great deal of hesitation.

Judge Loving had barely more than started a recital of what Sneed had said when the State interposed a serious objection, saying that what had been told the witness was hearsay only, and was irrelevant and improper as evidence. The jury was directed to leave the courtroom, and the argument, the first in connection with a point in the case, was on. The State contended with vehemence that it was not proper to permit such evidence to go to the jury, citing authorities to substantiate its side. The defense was quick to come back with the statement that the evidence was correct and proper, and that its object was to show the character of the report and to allow the jury to form its own conclusions as to the impression it had made on the witness.

For more than an hour the lawyers talked, and at 5:30 a recess was taken till today in order to allow the lawyers to produce further authorities.

At five minutes before the time for convening of court Judge Loving, Miss Loving, Mrs. Loving and Miss Annie Sneed came into the room, accompanied by Senator Barksdale, of counsel for the defense, and were soon followed by Senator Strode.

Miss Loving wore a white shirt waist, sailor hat, and white veil. Soon after arriving in court she began to grow nervous, and in a few moments she found relief for her emotion by giving way to tears. Shortly afterwards, however, she controlled herself and regained her composure.

There were two dramatic incidents during the day one when the bloody clothes, taken from the dead body of Estes were produced before the jury. Attorney Lee, for the defense, was on his feet at once with an objection.

"Why are you showing those bloody clothes to the jury?" he exclaimed. "If you are doing so to prove a point I have no objection, but if you have some other motive, I object."

Mr. Bouldin, for the defense, did not answer, and Mr. Lee repeated his words. Then Mr. Harman, for the prosecution, said: "We think it necessary, and that is enough."

The blood-stained clothes were exhibited in detail, while Judge Loving watched with as keen an interest as any one in the courtroom.

Another stirring moment followed, when Constable Wood testified to the words uttered at the preliminary examination by Judge Loving, when he told why he had killed Theodore Estes. Slowly and during an intense silence, Mr. Wood repeated the words:

"My blood boiled; every fibre of my body cried out, and nothing could have stopped me, not even God Almighty himself."

"What impression was made on your mind by the words of Judge Loving?" asked Mr. Lee.

"The impression was that he believed Theodore Estes had assaulted and ruined his daughter," replied the witness.

Houston, Va., June 25.—Miss Elizabeth Loving is on the verge of collapse. Yet she must take the witness stand perhaps today as a witness for her father.

The defense hoped for a time to spare the girl the ordeal of such a public appearance. So strong was the case built up by the prosecution yesterday, however, that Judge Loving's lawyers are agreed that she must figure as a witness in support of her father's story that he killed Estes because the latter drugged and maltreated the young woman.

Miss Loving seemed calm and self-possessed when she appeared in court yesterday. The prosecution's steady hounding, the free use of the words of "capital punishment," "death" and "hanging," and the realization that the crisis was actually at hand broke down her courage, however.

She wept all day in the court room and spent last night in a condition bordering on hysteria. Physicians think, nevertheless, that she will be able to nerve herself for the ordeal of the witness stand.

Judge Loving resumed the stand when court opened today. Attorneys for the prosecution and defense did not permit him to begin his testimony at once, however, but returned to their argument over the admissibility of his story that a conversation with his brother-in-law, Harry Snead, so enraged him that he killed Estes.

Whether or not this testimony is admitted Snead will undoubtedly be the next witness and it will be from his lips that the jury will hear how he told Loving that Estes had wronged the judge's daughter.

The ruling of Judge Barksdale in reference to the admissibility of the conversation between Harry Snead and Judge Loving was favorable to the defense and Judge Loving was allowed to take the stand and resume his testimony. Loving's statement today was the biggest sensation of the trial.

The witness spoke in a steady, calm voice, which did not waver until he came to the part where his daughter had told him from her own lips that Theodore Estes had given her drugged whisky while out riding and that she had been mistreated. At this juncture Judge Loving requested the court to allow him a few seconds that he might control his emotions.

Several of the male relatives and Judge Loving including his son, wept bitterly during the recital.

Harry Snead, declared the defendant had informed him of his daughter being brought to the home of Mrs. Kidd in a drugged and delirious condition.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Conditions in France.

Paris, June 25.—With assurance that peace is to return to the Mide, even thought the "revolt" of the wine growers is to continue until the demands of the revolters are granted and the government takes effective steps to redress the grievances of the district, Paris is breathing easier today.

It had been hoped that with the return of Marcelin Albert, leader of the wine growers, to the disturbed district the central committee would call the revolt off. But the proposition was voted down. It was decided, however, to continue the agitation calmly and peacefully until full satisfaction is granted.

However, with over half a million people participating in the revolt trouble may occur at any moment. The presence of so many troops in the district is also a constant irritant.

The greatest fear is that if another outbreak comes it will be worse than those of last week. Hope of winning their demands by peaceful methods is restraining the wine growers at present. But if they come to the conclusion that this means will fail, it is feared they will resort to great excessives.

The government has also been given a scare by learning that the loyalty of the troops cannot be wholly depended upon.

The partial surrender of the government to the wine growers in the Mide district in order to end the great revolt there was announced in the Chamber of Deputies today by Minister of Finance Caillaux, who declared he will submit to the Chamber a new bill for repressing the wine adulterations which caused the uprising.

Word was received today of a father outbreak at Boziers last night. The twenty-fourth colonial infantry engaged in a demonstration at the rail mail station, shouting "Abas Picquart, Abas Clemeneus, Abas Lee Assassins." The soldiers then threw down their arms and refused to serve longer.

Conditions in Lisbon.

Lisbon, June 25.—Vigorous steps are being taken by the government to suppress the open hostility to the king and ministry caused by the attempt to rule without parliament. As a consequence of the hospitality shown by them, three republican clubs have been closed. Two newspapers at Oporto, which voiced opinions antagonistic to the government, have been suppressed.

London, June 25.—Mark Twain was the guest of honor today at a luncheon of honor of the Pilgrim Club given at the Hotel Savoy. The assemblage was the most representative crowd of notables in the world of art, literature and politics that London has seen in years.

The Telegraphers' Strike.

New York, June 25.—The first official statement regarding the telegraphers' strike in San Francisco, emanating from President Small, of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, was made public here today and contains the following statement:

"The strike here is not a repudiation of the New York agreement although Col. Clowery's cleverly worded slap at the union has caused much resentment and an entire lack of confidence in his sincerity everywhere."

At the general offices of the Western Union here it was said that the company had not changed its attitude of yesterday. "Everything is all right. We are going ahead with business. The situation is unchanged," was the statement given out at Col. Clowery's office.

The Small statement, which was signed by Charles P. McInerey, secretary-treasurer, explains the 'Frisco situation as follows: "The issue here is 25 per cent. increase owing to the extraordinary cost of living. We acted in conformity with President Clowery's letter, but the Western Union declined to meet a committee and refused to treat with operators except as individuals."

The statement continues:

"The instructions of President Small are to remain at your post of duty and take no unauthorized action."

Deputy President Koenenkamp said today that the situation had not changed since yesterday. There is much random talk of a general strike as the result of the Western Union's stand, and it is said that in such event the next walk out would be in Chicago. Birmingham would be the next point of attack. Chicago would be expected to shut off the West and Birmingham to stop business in the South. If a strike should go further it is probable that New York would be next.

Child Murderer Collapses.

West Chester, Pa., June 25.—Declared responsible by a coroner's jury for the death of his stepdaughter—five-year-old Mary Robbins Newlin—held to the grand jury without bail and committed to jail on a capital charge, Irwin Lewis is in so shocking a physical and mental condition that physicians express doubt whether he will live to face a jury on an accusation of murder. Half led and half carried from the justice court to the Chester county jail last night Lewis fell in a fit as he entered his cell, frothing and shrieking until Jail Physician Scattergood administered a sedative when he fell into the sleep of exhaustion. He is comparatively quiet today, but seems numbed with horror, scarcely answers the questions asked him, and moans and wrings his hands constantly like a man bereft of reason. The inquest was short. Physicians who examined Mary Robbins Newlin's body told their story, declaring that the child was buried alive. Then prosecutor Mac Elree told how Lewis confessed to having buried the child, denying, however, that he killed her. The verdict followed in five minutes. Trembling and incomplete collapse, Lewis was then arranged before Justice Lipp, committed to jail and returned from Avondale to the county jail here.

Collapse of a House.

New York, June 25.—After a through examination of the ruins of the tenement at Walker and Lafayette streets, which collapsed early today, it is now known that seven persons lost their lives while many persons near had miraculous escapes. Several tenants were slightly hurt. All the occupants were asleep on the upper floors when the crash came. They were all members of one family, children of Mr. and Mrs. Tachino, and ranged in age from one and a half to twenty years. The building collapsed after the police had warned the building department that the structure was in an unsafe condition. An inspector had been sent to make an examination and he reported the tenement was safe. A rigid investigation was begun today and it is likely that criminal action will begin.

The police later arrested Joseph Bloomenthal, a contracting foreman, who was in charge of the repair work being done on the building. Blomenthal was held in $25,000 bail on a charge of homicide.

Sight Restored by "Shoot-The-Shute."

Louisville, June 25.—After being blind since four years of age, Katherine Heinzmann, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heinzmann, of Moline, Ill., recovered her sight in this city, Sunday evening, under remarkable circumstances. Immediately after leaving the boat of the "shoot-the-shutes," at a local summer resort she began to discern objects imperfectly at first. Unprepared for the change, the parents thought she was suffering from excitement, and it was only after she had been taken to a physician that they realized the true situation. The child had been sightless since an attack of scarlet fever. The parents were here with her en route to Texas, to consult a physician, having tried scores of others without result.

Anniversary of Shooting.

New York, June 25.—Harry K. Thaw observed the anniversary of the shooting of Stanford White today by beginning an effort to procure release from the Tombs prison until his next trial. The year in prison has made a different man of Thaw both in appearance and in spirit. Thaw was told of the departure of Assistant District Attorney Garvin, to Europe, which means that the trial cannot be held for at least four months, and that Thaw must spend the long, hot summer and early fall waiting in his cell. Then he begged that an effort for bail be made. The lawyers were not enthusiastic, as they told him the standing of the jury, seven to five for conviction, would be a hard barrier to overcome in an argument before a Supreme Court justice.

Contest for Leadership.

Alliance, O., June 25.—A big split has occurred in the camp of "gift of tongue" Sedt over a conflict of visions as to who is to be permanent leader of the Zion-Like Colony Rev. Levi Lupton announced he was directed to found here.

Rev. C. E. McKinney, of Akron, and Rev. R. E. Bartleman, of Los Angeles, Cal., had visions immediately following Lupton, their adherents assert, when each was designated as the head of the new community.

The colony is based on doctrines, many asserting blessings should be made the prime principle instead of the gift of tongues. Gifts of money and jewelry to Rev. Lupton have fallen off.

Investigation of Explosion.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—An explosion which wrecked a hoisting engine employed in erecting a new steel eight-story office building damaged the structure and injured two policemen, is being investigated by the police, under the belief that it was caused by sympathizers of striking steelworkers. The police say a tape fuse was found wrapped around a portion of the engine and running into the fire box. It is believed to have been loaded with dynamite.

Killed by Negroes.

In a riot on an excursion train Hall Brewster, of Atlanta, was shot and killed by negroes yesterday afternoon, just before the train reached La Grange.

The excursion was from Atlanta to La Grange, and the train was crowded, many of the excursionists being negroes. Just before the train reached La Grange, Brewster had some words with French Early, a negro, in regard to the possession of a hat which was claimed by another negro.

Others took part in the trouble, and the train was soon in an uproar. There was a movement to throw Early from the train, when he drew the pistol and shot Brewster through the heart.

The negro fired several other shots, wounding two more persons, and then leaped from the train. He was captured yesterday afternoon and jailed. There is talk of lynching.

Col. Brewster, the father of the dead man, is the leading lawyer of Atlanta, being a member of the firm of Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, counsel for the Southern Railway.

Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 4:35 a. m. and sets at 7:30 p. m. High water at 7:55 a. m. and 8:28 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section fair and continued warm tonight and Wednesday; showers and cooler Wednesday night or Thursday; light southwesterly winds.

APPEAL TO BE TAKEN.

A man who stands on the Virginia side of the Potomac river, below high-water mark, and fishes in the river with a dipnet, violates section 895 of the District code, which prohibits fishing in the Potomac river with a dipnet, and is subject to the fine provided. This was the decision of Judge Mulloney, in the Washington Police Court, in the case of John Evans, a resident of Alexandria county.

The evidence in the case was that Evans was standing on a rock which protruded from the water on the Virginia shore, and that he was fishing from the rock with a dipnet at the end of a pole about 15 feet long. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by the police department.

In Evans' behalf it was contended yesterday by Attorneys Crandall Mackey and D. S. Mackall that Congress had no right to pass a law infringing on the rights of the citizens of Virginia, and that, therefore, the law was unconstitutional. According to a compact made in 1785, they said, between Maryland and Virginia, it was agreed that the citizens of both States should have fishing and wharfage rights on the Potomac rive. The territory in Alexandria county was given afterward to the United States for the District of Columbia, but was later given back to Virginia.

Upon behalf of Evans and others who make their living by fishing; Messrs. Mackey and Mackall will appeal the case.

WANT EXTENSION OF TIME.

The question of whether the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company shall be allowed to use the overhead trolley system in crossing the Highway bridge across the Potomac and approaches after the 30th instant was yesterday formally submitted to the Secretary of War in a letter from Mr. King, president of the company, asking that the time allowed for the installation of a standard underground electric system on that highway be extended from June 30 until December 31, 1907. The application is based on the statement that it is "physically impossible" to make the change from the overhead system to the underground system within the limit of time allowed by the law, to wit, June 30, 1907. It is understood that Maj. Cosby, the engineer officer in charge of the work on the Highway bridge, has made a report to the War Department in opposition to any further extension of time to the railway company and recommending a strict enforcement of the law. As there is a serious question as to the authority of the Secretary of War to grant an extension of time in this case, it is probable that the acting judge advocate general of the army will be called on for a legal opinion as to his powers in the premises.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Mary J. Schofield, widow of Arthur E. Schofield, died last night about 10 o'clock at the residence of her son, Mr. Daniel W. Schofield, on north Columbus street. She was in the 79th year of her age. The deceased had recently been paralyzed. Three sons, D. W. Schofield, of this city, John Schofield, of Zanesville, Ohio, and William Schofield, of New York, and Mrs. John T. Harrison, of this city, survive her.

Mrs. Mankin, widow of Charles Mankin, died at her residence, No. 210 north Patrick street, last night. The deceased leaves one son, Mr. Charles Mankin. She was 80 years old.

Mrs. Mary E. Ryan, widow of Timothy Ryan, and daughter of the late Michael and Margaret Sweeney, died at her residence in this city shortly after noon today.

John, the infant son of Mr. John and Mrs. Maud Fletcher, died last night at his parents' home, No. 2807 Duke street.

Maud Pendleton, colored, aged 30 years, died last night at the alms house. She had been an inmate of that institution during the past two months.

RESENT CHARGE.

A dispatch from this city to the Richmond Journal says:

The friends of C. C. Carlin, democratic nominee for Congress from this district, are up in arms at the charge made by J. T. Wampler, editor of the Culpeper Enterprise, that Carlin bought his election.

Mr. Carlin was out of the city when a reporter for the Journal called at his office but S. G. Brent, one of his lieutenants, gave out the statement that Mr. Carlin's canvass was one of the cleanest ever conducted in this city. He was certain that no corruption was practiced in this city, and stated that he knew that nothing of a corrupt nature was done that Mr. Carlin knew of. "No votes were brought nor was there any challenge made of any of the votes cast here," declared Mr. Brent. "As to Culpeper county," said Mr. Brent, "I feel sure that everything was done in an orderly and proper manner."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The sixth annual session of Washington District Epworth League Conference of the Methodist Church will be held in Fredericksburg commencing tonight in the Methodist Church and continuing through Thursday. The officers are Rev. E. V. Regester, presiding elder; Rev. Charles D. Bulls, president; Rev. H. E. Beach, secretary and treasurer; Miss Margaret Waesche, missionary vice president; Miss Grace Jeffries, superintendent Junior League; Rev. J. W. Smith, field secretary; Revs. W. F. Locke and W. D. Keene, members of executive committee.

The programme will open at 8 o'clock tonight with devotional exercises.

On Thursday morning a pilgrimage will be made to the site of the George Arnold house in Spotsylvania county, where Bishop Asbury died March 31st, 1816, when there will be a dedication of the marker erected by the Epworth Leagues of the Washington District.

The Misses Rotchford and class of 1907 will entertain their friends at a sindio recital this evening.

LUNA PARK

Richard Weaver, the talented young bandmaster, now playing at Luna Park, is noted for his repartee, and those familiar with his drollery are often treated to unlooked-for sallies of wit. While the band was performing at the World's Fair, Chicago, a certain leader of one of the fair's larger concessions had a weakness for Scotch airs, and while in conversation with young Weaver one afternoon he said, "Weaver, try as you will, there is nothing musically that compares with the old standard Scotch ballads." Bandmaster Weaver replied they were all right in their place, to which the other further evinced his liking for Scotch melodies by saying, "Why, I've been playing Annie Laurie for the past four weeks." Director Weaver, by this time bored with the conversation, eyed his brother musician from head to foot, and with a fixed expression that would hold its own in any pulpit, replied, "I was once associated with a band that played 'The Stars and Stripes Forever.'"

Today has been Royal Arcanum Day at Luna Park, and a large number of people have visited the park. Many others will take the evening trains for the resort.

The Retail Merchants' Association of this city also went on an excursion to Luna Park today.

The Washington Retail Grocers will give an excursion to Luna Park tomorrow. A gold watch and a diamond ring will be awarded as prizes to those holding the winning coupons.

MR. CLEMENTS WARNED.

The State Board of Education in Richmond yesterday elected Dr. Charles M. Hazen division superintendent of schools for Chesterfield county, to succeed the late Captain W. A. Blankenship; adopted a resolution warning Superintendent James E. Clements, of Alexandria county, against further delinquencies in sending in his reports to the department, and adjourned until today when some routine work of more or less importance was taken up. The members of the board were all present including Governor Swanson. The case of Superintendent Clements was called early and quickly disposed of. He was cited to appear and show cause, if any he could, why he should not be suspended from office for failing to send in his school reports promptly to the department.

The case was briefly discussed and a resolution was adopted overlooking the delinquencies of Mr. Clements up to this time, but warning him if they occurred again the Superintendent of Public Instruction would summarily suspend him and designate a school trustee of his jurisdiction to act as superintendent pending the election of his successor by the board.

A Correction.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette:
Alexandria, Va., June 24, 1907

Dear Sir: My attention was called to an item in your paper today under the head of "Local Brevities" in which you state that a special officer in the Potomac yards was severely beaten by a tramp. This was incorrect, no such thing having occurred. I wish you to make this correction.

Yours Respectfully,
A. F. CANNADAY,
Special Agent, R., F. & P. R. R. and W. S. Ry.

[It has subsequently been learned that the trouble at the yard was not caused by a tramp, and no special officer was assaulted.]

No more disturbances have occurred in Southern France.

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 25, 1907.

Fortunes Brought Death.

William Breene, a day laborer, of Washington, Pa., was so overcome yesterday by the news that he had inherited an estate valued at $100,000, that he fell unconscious and died a half hour later in a hospital. At noon yesterday Chief of Police Delaney showed Breene a letter, in which it was said that his father had died on a farm in Ohio, leaving his entire wealth to his son. "You're not fooling me, chief," he asked. He was assured that his wealth was bona fide. Breene seemed dazed, and, then throwing up his hands, fell unconscious to the pavement. He never regained consciousness. There are no near relatives to claim the estate.

When informed yesterday morning that he had fallen heir to $40,000, Frank C. Randle, of South Norwalk, Conn., went out and drowned himself in the Norwalk mill pond. It is thought that joy unbalanced his mind after having been informed by the administrators of his father's estate as to its amount and his share. Randle, who was thirty-five years of age, entered the little store where his father had labored for more than half a century and sat in thought for some time. Then, saying he was going for a drive, Randle drove to the mill pond, where he removed his clothes and plunged into the water.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, as so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, cold, croup and whooping cough.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm (an antiseptic liniment) for cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, swellings, lame back and rheumanic pains.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for constipation, biliousness and stomach troubles.

Chamberlain's Salve for diseases of the skin.

One bottle of each of these five preparations costs but $1.25. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Gibson & Timberman.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; He says: 'Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two said it was kidney; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist, 50c.

Decline in Building Operations.

According to a statement issued by the Employers' Association of Washington yesterday, there is 46 per cent less building in that city today than there was one year ago. Responsibility for for this state of affairs is placed upon the building trades unions.

The statement was directed to the property owners of the District of Columbia, who are, it says, "the real parties to any contract or agreement, for the reason that it is the owner who must ultimately pay the full wage cost of construction.

"If the building costs," says the statement, "have reached an almost prohibitive point under the rule of organized labor in the past, because of deceased efficiency and increased restrictions and limitations, what can be expected of it in the future if it finds itself powerful enough to override every obligation and right and to ignore the decisions of umpires? The contractors are not only fighting for their self-respect and their independence, but their fight also involves the interests of every property owner."

The trades unions at a meeting last night resolved to prepare an answer to the Employers' Association.

Salesman Murdered.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Trouble of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptons only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys, as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Notice to City Taxpayers.

Collector's Office, June 17, 1907.

Notice is hereby given that the tax bills for 1907 are now in the hands of the collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called to the following extract from the revenue bill of that year:

"Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1907, the Collector of Taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent., and on all bills paid by the 1st day of September, 1907, he shall allow a discount of five per cent., and on all bills not paid on the 1st of December, 1907, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent. upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1908, damages at the rate of six per cent. per annum shall be paid."

Taxpayers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.

Bring a list to make sure you get bills for all your property, as the collector will not be responsible or allow the discount after the time fixed by law.

P. F. GORMAN,
je17tjy1 Collector City Taxes.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 12, 1907.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3.00 or $5.00.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

☞In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

The following is a copy of Section 54 of the License law: "On every dog, regardless of sex, one dollar and fifty cents."
